

All My Children Episode Recap, Wednesday, February 3, 2010

Written by Laurie Bedigian
Monday, 21 February 2011 13:13

As the day begins, it looks like Greenlee's plan has worked. Ryan and Erica learn the extent of the damage done to Fusion's software system but vow to rise from the ashes and rebuild.

Meanwhile, David claims to Angie and Jake that Nurse Gayle is the patient he's treating. Jesse confronts David after finding his fingerprint on the flash drive that was used to sabotage Fusion's computer system.

At the same time, Greenlee accidentally causes the room to fill with smoke from the fireplace before passing out. Ryan hears the smoke alarm going off when he arrives at Wildwind.

On the other side of the Valley, Krystal is embarrassed to admit to Tad that she hurt herself when she and Rob fell out of bed while having sex. Liza picks up on the easy dynamic between Tad and Krystal. The day winds down with Marissa who reopens old emotional wounds when she confronts David at the hospital.