No sooner did General Hospital's Ingo Rademacher (Jax) pick up bag and baggage, family and possessions, and relocate to Hawaii, he is announcing via Twitter that he will be returning to General Hospital in a few weeks

"Looking forward to flying back to LA for a little GH!!!!" he tweeted about 30 minutes ago. "This December."

Naturally the twitterverse is buzzing...

Rademacher, who has played Jasper "Jax" Jax on and off since 1996, was most recently involved in a storyline with Carly (Laura Wright) and their child.

Is he returning to Port Charles for a Christmas storyline or to cause trouble with Carly and Shawn, or Sonny? All Soapdom can say is welcome back Jax and stay tuned.
