General Hospital Fan Feburary got off to a huge start when the executive producer and the head writer had a Tweet fest today on teasing about a new hire to the show.

Turns out, that new cast member is none other than Rebecca Budig, who All My Children fans remember as Greenlee Smythe. She got her start in daytime on Guiding Light in 1998 playing Michelle Bauer.

Not only are soap fans delighted with this news, but so are Budig's upcoming and former co-stars.

In fact, the twitterverse was a buzz...

And here's what Budig and her new boss had to say about the casting news...
