

General Hospital Sneak Peeks Week 1-30-12

Written by Linda Marshall-Smith
Sunday, 29 January 2012 15:01

Over the past few months, General Hospital has been rather cryptic with sharing upcoming story material. We will try best we can to piece this all together, even though it's a bit disjointed. Here we go...

The week begins as Sam rushes to the hospital. Why is she in such a hurry to get there? Is something amiss with her pregnancy, or does it have to do with Jason's current situation?

Meanwhile, Luke and Lulu have a heart-to-heart. What do father and daughter discuss this time? Will the conversation lead them to a meeting of the minds, or is it far too late for that?

At the same time, strange bedfellows take shape. Namely, Carly gets closer with Johnny as Alexis and Shawn work together. What do Alexis and Shawn have up their sleeves and why are Carly and Johnny all of a sudden so chummy?

Shortly thereafter, as Ewen tries to help Dante. Ethan gets a surprising visitor. Who shows up? Meantime, takes it upon himself to do something for Edward and Tracy and whatever it is, it makes them happy. Okay, great. What is Michael up to? Then, as Kate announces her next business trip, Matt gets unhinged regarding Ewen and Elizabeth. Will Matt fess up to his feelings? Find out when you check in to General Hospital this week.