

General Hospital Sneak Peeks Week 2-28-11

Written by Linda Marshall-Smith
Friday, 25 February 2011 13:37

---

It's all about finding Brenda this week. First thing on Sonny list? He vows to get answers from Shawn. He is prepared to go so far as to torture Shawn for information. Will Shawn tell Sonny what he wants to hear?

Speaking of Shawn, he barely dodges a Balkan assassin who attacks him at General Hospital. How does he escape the assassin's clutches?

At the same time, as Sonny does his best to get intel on Brenda's whereabouts, she finds herself in the Balkan's clutches. Has he bested her or will she find a way to escape?

Meanwhile, Jason notices that something is wrong with Sam. What's going on with her? Will she be okay? We have a feeling that things are going to decline before they get better as far as Sam is concerned. In fact, Kristina witnesses Sam take a turn for the worse. Is her life in danger?

Then it's on to some romantic developments in Port Charles. Like Kristina who admits her feelings and long-term plans for Ethan; and Nik, who works up the courage to admit his feelings to Brook Lynn. Are Ethan and Brook Lynn receptive to their respective suitors? Later, it's even more romance as Patrick and Robin grow closer. Could this be the beginning of a full reconciliation for them?

Oh and don't forget. Franco is still around on Monday. What's he got up his sleeve this time? Stay tuned to General Hospital this week and see.