In case you missed it, Gina Tognoni (Phyllis, Young and the Restless) guested on today's Home & Family.

As many of you know, Tognoni is no stranger to soap operas, appearing on such shows as One Life to Live and Guiding Light. She has even tried her hand at webisodes, starring in Daytime Emmy winning, Venice the Series.

She has made her way to Genoa City and is taking the town by storm, filling some pretty big shoes taking over for Michelle Stafford in the role of Phyllis on The Young and the Restless. Her work on the show has not gone unnoticed, as she is nominated for a Daytime Emmy this year.

On today's episode of Home & Family, she talks with hosts Mark Steines and Christina Ferrare about her Emmy nod, her role as Phyllis and her passion for designing shoes and giving back.

One thing I can say for sure. I am with her on the flats issue. Six-inch heels that make me tower over my husband and feel like I am walking on stilts? Not for me!
