It's that time again. We refer, of course to the All My Children fan weekend, which is actually more like a fan week. It begins

Wednesday, July 27th and runs through Sunday, July 30th. Many events with stars are planned, and tickets are still available either at the door or via online purchase. Get the scoop !

The Bay the Series gives die-hard fans of General Hospital in the late '80s and One Life to Live in the early '90s a kick with the fourth installment of 'FAR FROM THE BAY' released Thursday, July 14th by creator/director Gregori J. Martin and LANYfilms Productions! Fans will also enjoy a hint of our second web series crossover involving Indie Soap Empire the Series. Peter Garrett (played by X-Games Champ Kristos Andrews) shares a thought provoking conversation with a mystery lady (played by Tonja Walker GH, OLTL). Former One Life to Live actor Brian Tarantina also makes an appearance. Check out the latest mini webisode now! Enjoy!

Days of Our Lives and ClassWish.org have teamed up for Stars for Schools. Stars for Schools helps bring awareness to the 56 million kids and their teachers who need more than a barren classroom to survive. They need school supplies. That's where ClassWish comes in. ClassWish helps get kids the tools they need to thrive. Days of Our Lives has generously agreed to participate with their two top stars: Joe Mascolo and James Scott. Soap Opera Digest has offered a page in their magazine to showcase the winner! The prize: A lucky Days fan will fly to LA, get a VIP tour of the Days studio, then go onto the set, meet Stefano and EJ, have their picture taken with them, and then appear together with them full-page in Soap Opera Digest. To learn more and get started, please visit at www.StarsForSchools.org
