Congratulations are in order!

On Monday August 27th, 2012 Heather Lindell and her husband Josh Boyd welcomed a healthy baby boy into the family. He weighed in at 6 ½ lb. His name is Desmond George.

Lindell is best known to soap opera fans for the role of Jan Spears that she played on Days of our Lives from 2005 to 2005.

She subsequently starred on Broadway in the 2010 Tony Award Winning Musical "La Cage Aux Folles" with Harvey Fierstein and Kelsey Grammar.

Lindell can currently be seen in the Indie film "That's What She Said" directed by True Blood actress Carrie Preston which is making the Film Festival Circuit.

Lindell and her husband and son now currently make their home base in Los Angeles.
