A tragic accident befalls two residents of Genoa City. Who is involved and more importantly, will they survive?

At the same time, Ashley could not be more determined than ever to protect Abby. In order to accomplish this, she actually places herself at the center of a police investigation. Will the po-po get wise to her machinations? If not, has she bitten off more than she can chew?

While on the other side of town, Tucker has made his desires very clear. Unfortunately, Kay and Sofia will soon find themselves clashing over Tucker's wishes. Will he step in and assuage the situation? All we can say is be sure to tune in to the Young and the Restless this week to find out.
