It's been some time in coming, so its no wonder that this week Kevin and Chloe take a long hard look at the situation and make decisions about their future together. What will they decide to do? Will they choose wisely?

At the same time, a harsh reality sets in for Daniel when he is faced with a shocking truth. Will he be able to cope? Then, as Daniel struggles with his circumstances, a surprise visitor returns to Genoa City. Could it be Phillip?

While over on the other side of town, Phyllis and Jack become Sharon's unlikely allies. Why are they putting past disagreements aside to team up? Might it have some thing to do with putting Victor in his place? Find out when you tune in to the Young and the Restless this week.
