"I'd like to see Gloria smack him in the face!"

{mosimage}Dear Soapdom,

Is there anyone out there who isn't sick of someone always being on their death bed? Pleeeze. I'm so sick of Jack's tears. Do the Young and the Restless writers think that will change the horrible things he has done? I'd like to see Gloria smack him in the face. And I'd be thrilled to see Gloria get what she rightfully deserves... her place as John's wife and everything John intended her to have. Jack and the injustice of that turns my stomach upside down.

Additionally, I fast forward everything involved with the reliquary story...boring, boring, boring. And I have been fast forwarding through Jack and Ashley since the entire Gloria (debacle) and events that followed with Jack trying to take over the world.

Thank God for my DVR.
